DISCUSS CONSTRUCTION MANPOWER PROBLEMS AT NOWA HUTA

SAYS NEW WORKERS MUST RECEIVE ATTENTION -- Warsaw, Zwiazkowiec, 8 Oct 50

There are still some factory councils at the Nowa Huta which take no interest in new workers. A group of young men from Nowy Targ worked at loading bricks and boards and for the first several days was not approached by any representatives of the factory council or the administration. The class enemies took advantage of this situation to induce several young workers to leave the job because they were not receiving the proper attention. After a short talk, however, they were persuaded to stay and asked for assistance in learning the trade. There are many such instances which show a lack of interest in newcomers by the factory councils and trusted representatives.

The greatest number of workers employed on the construction of the Mining Academy and the building for the Regional Council of Trade Unions being built in Krakow come from Sandomierz. The administration, which promised them room and board allowances, did not keep its promise, and the factory councils showed no interest in the newcomers. Dissatisfaction increased to such a degree that the workers were preparing to leave the construction job, when the Regional Council of Trade Unions stepped in and settled the matter.

At the Fourth Plenary Meeting of the Central Committee of the Polish United Workers Party, Bierut emphasized the fact that lack of workers is due to shortsightedness or indolence on the part of those who do not care to see the new workers develop. It is necessary only to give them some attention and assistance to overcome the initial difficulties encountered in their daily work.

SOLDIERS PLEDGE AID IN BUILDING NOWA HUTA -- Warsaw, Kurier Codzienny, 17 Oct 50

At a conference of 600 soldiers, shockworkers, and party representatives held at the Nowa Huta, which was also attended by the military commander of the region, the soldiers pledged to join the ranks of the workers on the construction when released from military service. They passed a resolution calling on all soldiers released from service to participate in the building of the Nowa Huta.
